Mobil Names Safety Boss

Frank E. Bartholomew of San Pedro, has been appointed division safety supervisor for Mobil Oil Co.

In his new position, Bartholomew will coordinate the safety and fire prevention activities of the department. Working with management and the field, he will assist in developing safety programs, review operations, assess results, and train employees.

Bartholomew joined the petroleum company in 1936 in the engineering department. Prior to his promotion he was a safety superintendent in the manufacturing department at the Torrance refinery.

Crews Start Carson Area Street Work

Construction was started this week on the improvement of the intersection of Carson and Main Sts. in the Carson area, it was announced by County Supervisor Burton W. Chace.

The work will consist of reconstructing the pavement to improve the riding qualities of the roadway and to correct a drainage problem at this intersection.

The supervisor pointed out that both of these streets are major County master plan.

More Summer Classes Set For Narbonne

Because of the tremendous number of students enrolling in summer school this year, a more extensive program will be offered at Narbonne High School, it was reported here yesterday.

In previous years, pupils have used this program as a means of making up failures in regular school classes, but the present trend is to enrich their educational program and take courses of special interest which might not be otherwise included in their regular programs, according to school officials.

More than half of the students enrolled in regular semester classes will attend Narbonne High's summer school, July 1.

Registration for summer classes will be held Friday, July 1.
